

Jorgenson, Craig

---

From: Tori Saneda [tsaneda@gmail.com]
Sent: Friday, July 12, 2013 7:31 PM
To: Lozano, VelRey
Subject: fracking water

The EPA is supposed to protect the environment and in doing that protect humans. That means you have to protect the human's food supply as well. Allowing cattle to drink toxic fracking waste water and using it for irrigation of plants that will end up on people's table is no worse than allowing it in our drinking supply. To allow those permits along the Wind River Reservation in my mind is gross neglect and criminal.

Tori Saneda
13725 32nd Ave NE Apt A301
Seattle WA 98125

--
“Intellectual growth should commence at birth and cease only at death” ~ Albert Einstein